

Are You a Sales Person?

Last Updated Friday, 18 August 2006

Dear Friend:

ARE YOU A SALES PERSON? I mean what do you do when you work? Do you sell some-thing? Cars? Clothes? Computers? Something else? Whatever. Anyway, if selling is important to you, you should be sure to get a new book called "GRANDPA HENRY SPILLS THE BEANS" and read about great salesmen of the past who will inspire you and maybe even change your life. (see Chapter 2 in the book.)

Dear Friend:

ARE YOU A SALES PERSON? I mean what do you do when you work? Do you sell some-thing? Cars? Clothes? Computers? Something else? Whatever. Anyway, if selling is important to you, you should be sure to get a new book called "GRANDPA HENRY SPILLS THE BEANS" and read about great salesmen of the past who will inspire you and maybe even change your life. (see Chapter 2 in the book.)

But that's just the frosting on the cake. This new book has so much more that I don't know how to describe it, but I will say it has about 200 short stories - some funny, some sad, and others just plain interesting that you can tell your friends. They will think you're a walking encyclopedia.

Now for the nitty gritty: If you would like to have this book, you're in luck. Although it will be priced at $29.87 when it goes on sale in the usual ways, we are making it available on the internet at a $20.00 saving if you download it into your home or office while it is still unknwn. All you have to do is click on this green button. What a buy!

Best regards,

Will Scott